FROM THE CONFRATERNITY IN CHAPTER:

- I. Whereas, there have been lamentable Disturbances in the Body of Our Confraternity, and
- II. Whereas, the Threat of JOHN RODERICK has waxed most grievously, to the point of threatening the Good Order of Things, and
- III. Whereas, Unity in the Face of Attack is preferable to Discord;
- IV. Be it Resolved, that all Feuds, Dissensions, Schisms, and Disorders CEASE, and let the Confraternity stand UNITED against the Common Threat.

DEAR SCARFACE

Dear Scarface,
 We backed out of St. Kitts and it looked like there must be propellers or something up front. Do we have front screws? Are they dual?

*Dear Propellers or Something,
 Scarface is not known for his expertise in naval architecture. It does appear that the Independence of the Seas has lateral thrust-ers, but the only one who really got screwed in St. Kitts was Gavin Verhey.*
 --Scarface.

To whom it May Concern:
 I am deeply distressed by the Confraternity's Libelous and Seditious Attacks against the Right Honourable John Roderick. Truly a Man of Unimpeachable Character, Mr Roderick deserves the Utmost Respect. I request a Formal Denunciation of the Confraternity's Actions and a Formal Inquiry Into its Continued Presence in Our Hallowed Halls.
 --Publius

*Dear Publius,
 The furious raging of John Roderick against our Confraternity has served only to re-unite us, and has STIFFENED our resolve to expose the heinous crimes and irregularities of that notorious Scoundrel. As for a "Formal Inquiry"; the enormity of this suggestion induced considerable MIRTH at the offices of The Sea Monkey. Good Day, Sir,*
 --The Confraternity

Dear Scarface,
 Why is there is so little content appearing in today's Seamonkey? It's almost as if the editing staff, having run out of ideas, has re-sorted to puff-pieces, squeezing as many extra words into each paragraph as possible. What gives?

--Drew

*Dear Drew,
 I have no idea what you're talking about. Ow, my hangover.*
 --Scarface
