A MESSAGE FROM DR. MONICA BRUNELLI

A message from Dr. Monica Brunelli: Just because there’s an epidemic of Cabin Fever on the boat doesn’t mean we can’t have some rollicking tunes. Head down to the merch shop for all the new music from all our performers. And since Cabin Fever will spread to at most 90% of humanity, we wouldn’t worry too much about it. Enjoy your dinners!

USEFUL SPANISH LANGUAGE PHRASES!

Be prepared when you debark in Loreto.

Hello! I am a Sea Monkey : ¡Hola! Soy un mono del mar.

Where is the concert? : ¿Dónde está el concierto?

I have lost my way back to the ship: He perdido mi camino de regreso al barco.

What is the meaning of this?: Qué significa esto?

Unhand me at once, you rapsallion! : ¡Suéltame a la vez, pícado!

Soon it will be the future: Será el futuro pronto.

All we want to do is eat your brains: Todo lo que queremos hacer es comer tu cerebro.

Je suis Rick Springfield: Ich heisse Rick Springfield.

My hovercraft is full of eels: Mi aerodeslizador está lleno de anguilas.

ERRATA

The Editorial Staff deeply regrets the following error in the March 6 edition:

- [1] On page 4, Acre, an important port in modern-day Israel, was mistakenly referred to as “Accra,” the capital of Ghana. The historian has been sacked.
- [2] That shirt with those shoes?

L o r e t o

Weather: 76° F/ 24° C, Partly Cloudy

“Consider the subtleness of the sea; how its most dreaded creatures glide under water, unapparent for the most part, and treacherously hidden beneath the loveliest tints of azure...Consider all this; and then turn to this green, gentle, and most docile earth;
consider them both, the sea and the land; and do you not find a strange analogy to something in yourself?
—Herman Melville, Moby-Dick

On the Streets of ~~Laredo~~ Loreto...

Welcome to sunny Loreto, host to the biggest JoCo concert in the history of central Baja. Today we take this town by storm, from 11 am on Tuesday until Wednesday afternoon at 3 pm. Events kick off with a Food Festival at 3pm on Tuesday, followed by an epic concert in the Plaza Publica. Our great vessel is so mighty that it cannot fit into the city marina: tenders will connect the Westerdam to the marina all day and night. We’re here all night, so grab some food and drink, get comfortable and prepare for a concert of biblical proportions.

JoCoachella 2017: HOW TO GET THERE (and how to not)

“CAPTAIN’S” LOG: THE SEA OF CORTEZ

March 6, 2017. Easterly winds. Calm Sea. Our cruise continues unabated, with minimal interference from hostile marine life— for now. Today we put in at Loreto to replenish the ship’s supplies of hardtack and Vermouth. I hope the good citizens of the town understand the scale of the madness that is about to descend upon them. So far there have been remarkably few instances of scurvy, although this could change as we cruise deeper into the Sea of Cortez.
