WHAT ARE THE MOST JOCO-THEMED HOLIDAYS?

Here are some JoCo-appropriate holidays you may not know, — all of which are real holidays occurring during this cruise — and how to celebrate them.

Near Miss Day: March 23

In March 1989, a 300-meter-wide asteroid called 4581 Asclepius flew past the Earth by a distance of about 450,000 miles (684,000 kms). Whew! We suggest you almost do something dramatic today (but don't).

World Cocktail Day: March 24

Proposed in 2014, this is a day to celebrate the diversity and creativity of cocktails. To celebrate.... I mean, gee, what could we possibly do.

Tolkien Reading Day: March 25.

Proposed by the Tolkien Society, this is a day to read some more Tolkien. This feels like a bit of a gimme on a JoCo cruise, tbh.

National Science Appreciation Day: March 26

Proposed to celebrate the day that the polio vaccine was announced in 1953, this is a day to celebrate the achievements of modern science. Consider publishing a double-blind peer-reviewed study.
