Addenda:

One:

The Libertarian Party of North Carolina believes in every individual's bodily autonomy. We also believe in every individual's right to privacy, including medical privacy. We firmly stand against all encroachments by the government on those rights, including instances in which government compels private businesses to act on its behalf. We urge all local, state, and federal government officials to refuse to participate in the development of "vaccine passports" and to refrain from interfering in voluntary transactions between businesses and consumers. While we take public health very seriously and recognize the need for individuals to take appropriate precautions, we hope that all North Carolinians who value their individual liberty will speak up in their communities and to their representatives to stop the implementation of government regulated vaccination passports.

Secretary's notes: (1) I removed instructions to the EC for voting and (2) This seems to be a resolution; no action is indicated.

Adopted 6-0 with one abstention.

Two:

The Libertarian Party of Pitt County is pushing back against cronyism and government overreach as they fight for local business owners being taken advantage of by their elected officials. The Farmville Board of Commissioners will be deciding on a proposal to change an existing ordinance that would severely limit the operation of and raise the operating costs of food trucks in town. From the Libertarian Party of Pitt County: "Two current sitting town Commissioners, Jamin Dixon and Bert Smith, are listed as the company officials for LLCs that own four buildings in downtown Farmville which are rented to brick and mortar restaurants. These town Commissioners stand to benefit financially from any restrictions placed on food truck owners." The Libertarian Party of North Carolina urges citizens in the town of Farmville to contact the town Board of Commissioners and demand that the the two town Commissioners recuse themselves from voting on any proposed ordinance amendments. Three:

Reid Deal moved that the LPNC take over from Chris Nance the business page he secured called Libertarian Party of North Carolina on MeWe at a cost not to exceed $3 a month, for a period of 6 months to be reviewed by the EC for efficacy.

Secretary's notes: This appears to be a three part motion: (1) An allocation of funds, (2) acceptance of ownership of a social media site, and (3) an addition to the calendar for the NEXT ExecCom (to be elected in June).

Adopted 4-1 with 2 abstentions
