The meeting was called to order at 7:12 p.m. by Bob Peterson, Vice-Chair.

Andrew Kolstee issued a Secretary's report in writing.

Andrew Kolstee issued a Treasurer's report in writing. It was noted that there is always two people on the bank account. As of the meeting, Andrew Kolstee and Len Morlock are on the account, but it will need to be updated.

Motion by Andrew Kolstee to accept the Secretary and Treasurer's reports was seconded by Pat Peterson and passed without objection.

The location of meetings was discussed. The See-Zurh House was originally chosen as a meeting place until it closed since it was centrally located in the county. Since the Lakeview Hotel and Restaurant was the location of previous election night parties, meetings moved to that location in May 2023 for the 100th meeting onward. Even though the Lakeview is more centrally located in the county, most attending the meeting are in or closer to Jamestown. Shawbucks in Jamestown was discussed as a potential new meeting location. A candidate meeting and greet for the CCLP was held there in 2019.

Andrew Kolstee reported on the Libertarian Party of New York's intervention in the Team Kennedy v. Berger lawsuit.

The next meeting is the annual convention, scheduled for October 3, 2024 at 7:00 p.m., potentially at Shawbucks. Andrew Kolstee will inquire about a reservation.

Motion by Andrew Kolstee to adjourn was seconded by Pat Peterson and passed without objection.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:12 p.m.

Secretary
