

PUMPING STATION: ONE

NEW MEMBERS

WELCOME. NOW WHAT?

Welcome to the community of makers. You've just joined a growing number of 170+ individuals committed to the pursuit of knowledge.

If you've gotten this far, you probably have a pretty good idea of what we're about. But in case you aren't or need a refresher we are a community run workshop where YOU as a member of our community get to decide the kind of tools, classes, and directions this organization takes. No idea is too crazy. No question too simple.

We will cultivate a community of individuals who are deeply committed to the pursuit of knowledge and helping each other along the way.

But enough about us. More about you.

TO DO. RIGHT MEOW.

If you haven't already done so, join our Members Mailing list (Google groups). Just write a brief message with your name, how you heard about us, etc. We'll recognize your name from a recent new payment and you can start socializing immediately.

Fill out a waiver as soon as you can and turn it into one of our Board of Directors. Don't know them by face? You can scan and email it to secretary@pumpingstationone.org and it'll get filed away accordingly.

BUCKLE UP. TIME TO GET CERTIFIED.

You're a member now. Which means you are just as entitled to everything contained in the space as our founding members.

However you'll notice some of our tools require certification before use (the big drill press, lazer cutter, 3d printer, SawStop, etc). Which means if you want to make the most of your brand new membership you want to get certified on some of these tools.

On our wiki, as well as all of our tools, is a sticker that looks something like this. Scan it with any smartphone and instantly be transported to its page on our wiki! There you can find everyone who is certified so they can in turn certify you! Just make a post in the Members Mailing List and one of the certifiers will reach out to you.

For a full list of our tools and to make edits, head over to <http://wiki.pumpingstationone.org/Equipment>

YOUR DIRECTORS. THIS IS THE BOARD.

If there are any faces we want you to feel comfortable approaching and addressing by name. It's our friendly member elected, Board of Directors. Generally we're behind the scenes keeping the place running, but we're all makers too!
